Evan is an Associate Attorney in the Business and Real Estate Group at Isaac Wiles. He is also a certified public accountant licensed in Ohio. His experience as a certified public accountant, together with his educational background and experience, helps him better understand many of the legal issues that businesses and their owners face.

Evan started his career at a "Big Four" public accounting firm working in its State and Local Tax group. He also spent time with a local boutique law firm practicing tax, business, and estate planning law, before joining Isaac Wiles.
